DIRECTOR'S NOTE

Dear Royal Theater Academy Community,

I'm thrilled and humbled by the dedication and hard work our cast has put into bringing "School of Rock" to life. I want to take a moment to express my gratitude to the people who have made this production possible: Our amazing artistic staff, our families, students, and the incredibly supportive community that surrounds us.

"School of Rock" carries a valuable message that we can all relate to. It's a reminder that even in our toughest moments, life has a way of guiding us towards the right path. It teaches us the importance of finding our voice, speaking up, and embracing our inner rockstar. These are lessons that resonate with all of us, both on and off the stage.

In addition, I want to express my deep appreciation for my fiancée, who has been a constant source of love and support throughout the whirlwind of running a theater company. Your unwavering presence and understanding have kept me grounded, and I am grateful to have you as my rock.

As we embark on this incredible journey, let's keep these lessons from "School of Rock" close to our hearts. Let's continue to be unapologetically ourselves and find strength in embracing our inner rockstars! Together, we can create our destiny and continue to make amazing productions like this possible.

Thank you for being a part of this wonderful show whether it be as an audience member, staff member, or as a performer, and for your ongoing support.

With gratitude and excitement,

Trenton Torain
Founder and Artistic Director of Royal Theater Academy

The streets of Victorian England come to life as Oliver, a malnourished orphan in a workhouse, becomes the neglected apprentice of an undertaker. Oliver escapes to London and finds acceptance amongst a group of petty thieves and pickpockets led by the elderly Fagin. When Oliver is captured for a theft that he did not commit, the benevolent victim, Mr. Brownlow takes him in. Fearing the safety of his hideout, Fagin employs the sinister Bill Sikes and the sympathetic Nancy to kidnap him back, threatening Oliver's chances of discovering the true love of a family.

Rehearsals: February 20 - June 22 | Show Dates: June 22 - June 30
